▼Project Description

Please use the following headings in writing your project description:

- a. Need for support (for example: interruption of or delay in receiving federal funding; potential disruption of funding due to change in federal priorities; grant cancellation; absence of flexible research funds to support the work; inability to obtain funding from the central campus bridge funding program)
- b. Status of affected project (briefly describe research project and significance, progress made to date, and impact of funding disruption)
- c. Use of requested support (how requested support will enable continuation or completion of the research goals)
- d. Expected outcomes
- e. Future funding pathways

This project description should be no longer than 5000 characters (a space is a character); It is roughly equivalent to 2 to 3 double-spaced pages with 12 point Times font size.

The project description should be written so that it is understood by someone outside of your academic discipline. FRC Lead Reviewers may NOT be experts in your discipline.

You cannot include special characters, bolding, underlining, graphics equations or formulas in the project description. If you feel your project description will not be understandable with those limitations, take a copy to your interview or work this out with your interviewer when they can contact you to set up an appointment.
